OVERVIEW

An Essential Review of Landlord Tenant Law

With the many provisions contained within the Residential Tenancies Act and its regulations, it can often be difficult to navigate changes, especially in the current operating climate. As rental housing providers, it's important to understand your rights and responsibilities under the RTA.

This year, our sessions will focus on a variety of relevant topics including inter-tenant conflicts, recovery of rent arrears, unauthorized occupants, AGI's and the Human Rights Code. Our presenters will also provide important updates from the Landlord and Tenant Board and current timelines for various hearings.

Learn from Real Life Cases

Several landmark and precedential cases impacting rental housing operations and provider-resident relationships work their way through the courts each year. Our sessions will look at case examples from the LTB and Divisional Court that have significantly affected residential tenancy law this past year.

Who Should Attend?

These educational sessions are essential learning opportunities for all rental housing professionals including on-site staff, property managers, administrative, and leasing teams.

Managing Operational Issues

- Procedural updates: LTB Portal; options for early resolution; forms that can now be filed online (review current process and timelines for a hearing)
- Tenant vs. Tenant: Managing conflict, harassment, and threats: What are the landlord’s responsibilities?
- Fires in units; when is the lease frustrated + insurance and enforcement of same; when is a rental unit “demolished”?
- Hiring and terminating Superintendents and securing vacant possession; obtaining “use and occupation rent” when they overhold; what should the employment contract cover?
- Recovery of rent arrears and financial “damages” in addition to property damage; recovery from former tenants; what are strategies for enforcing judgments and why bother?
- The 2% Prompt payment discount: how do you administer the discount for multi-year tenancies, and can you recover the late payment charge at the LTB?
- Property Management Agreements: Are your agreements up to date?
- The now-vulnerable Agreements to End a Tenancy: is the N11 worth the paper it’s printed on? What paper trail do you need to ensure the Agreement does not get set aside

Best Practices to Manage Complex Tenancy Issues

- Unauthorized occupants: how do you evict them from a rental unit?;
- Bankrupt tenants: can landlords recover rental arrears or evict bankrupt tenants for failing to pay the rent?;
- Rules around the death of a tenant – what are the rights of a remaining occupant, spouse or tenant, how does a landlord secure the rental unit and dispose of remaining items, etc.;
- Human Rights Code review, including dealing with tenants who require service/support animals;
- Dealing with tenants who harass landlords for bringing AGI’s.
